Information on compensation of expenses related to publication of an article in the journal and its distribution

The scientific journal "Vestnik of Kostroma State University" publishes open access high-quality articles, allowing the scientific community and the public free access to published materials.

In order to cover the costs of providing high-quality services and free access for readers and authors, articles accepted after review require the payment of costs related to the placement of the article in the journal and its distribution.

When submitting and rejecting articles, we do not charge fees. Costs are paid by the author only if the article is accepted, after verification for plagiarism and after review.

Expenses related to the placement of an article in the journal and its distribution are aimed at:

- Assignment of identifiers (DOI, UDC) to articles.
- Translation services.
- Placement of articles in the public domain on the worldwide web Internet.
- Work on site support and linking to indexing databases.
- Mailing of copies of the journal.

Payment of expenses related to the placement of an article in the journal and its distribution, is carried out after the positive conclusion of reviewers, the decision on its publication by the editors of the journal and it makes RUR 7000.

Expenses related to the posting of an article in the journal and its distribution, can be paid by:

1) higher education institutions, scientific and other organisations. In numerous higher education institutions and organisations, there is a practice of paying for the publication of scientific articles, including through grants. In this case, the author needs to agree on the possibility of payment in its organisation and contact the editorial office of the journal at vestnik@ksu.edu.ru to receive a package of documents necessary for payment. There is a contract that is provided for the provision of publishing services, as well as an act of work performed and bill.

2) directly authors. After the article has been reviewed by the editors, approved by reviewers, and included in a specific issue of the journal "Vestnik of Kostroma State University", notification of acceptance of the article for publication is sent to the author, and payment is made on the basis of the Public Offer Agreement for the placement of copyrighted materials in the journal "Vestnik of Kostroma State University", posted on the journal's site in the section "Information for Authors".

Consent to the publication of the article and its submission to the editorial office means the author's awareness of the repayment of expenses related to the placement of the article in the journal and its distribution.
